

*She does not want to make compromises to cater to the world.
Every expression of hers is genuine.*

Rosa and Hermione chatted all day; before going to bed, she promised her surprise tomorrow.

As soon as class was over, Rosa trotted home quickly.

She could not wait to type, “I’m here!”

Hermione's surprise was a video call; she knew Rosa would want to. When they saw each other, they covered their mouths simultaneously. Hermione's face was makeup-free; it was more authentic. Her round cheeks were soft and greasy.